Who would have thought the preservation of the Amazon Rainforest

Has everything to do with fashion

Creating consciousness together

Most people don't know how important the Amazon Rainforest is for the planet...or how important the people are who protect it.

Things we all should know...

Rainforests help regulate the global climate. They are also vital to maintaining the earth's fragile balance.

The Amazon Rainforest covers an area larger than the continental United States and it houses one-third of the Earth's plant and animal species. It also produces one-fifth of all its flowing fresh water.

Nearly 400 distinct indigenous communities depend on the Amazon Rainforest for their physical and cultural survival.

We may be the last generation...

That has a chance to protect this precious gem of our world's cultural and ecological heritage. An irreplaceable source of life and inspiration.

This is the raw material of our creations

We are committed

To future generations to keep our planet healthy and alive. The seeds we use for our pieces sustain the preservation and replanting of the palm trees helps by protecting the Amazon Rainforest and supporting indigenous communities from the Amazon,. By using renewable and ethically sourced products, we help preserve the Rainforest and the cultural heritage its people.

You too can do something. Today.

Each of us can take action, you just have to change the way you think about accessories, how they affect us and our planet. The more seeds we use, the more power and economic value we give to the Rainforest, and the more we support the people that take care of it.

Don't ever underestimate the power of your choices

Choose gifts with a higher vibration, and this will be your new contribution to our planet and to your people.

JEWELS FROM THE AMAZON

Think differently about jewelry

Our "Joyas " are handmade from renewable Tagua nuts, Acai berries, Pambil, Visola, San Pedro seeds and many other incredible materials found in the Amazon Jungle. The usage of these materials give economic value to the trees and supports the preservation and replanting of the native flora of the rainforest.

The way indigenous people do

Accessories are not only to look beautiful, but also to feel graceful and healthy. The Rainforest has a unique intelligence that will call on and strengthen your own healing powers. Indigenous cultures have used seeds to craft jewelry and carry the powers of their medicinal plants with them.

#HANDMADEISBETTER

It seems so simple, "it's just jewelry and accessories". The indigenous people have never seen it like that. Everything they wear is carefully crafted, and it carries a vibration and a medicine; through the intelligence of their materials, through the sacred patterns and colors, and through their own connection to all of this.

When it comes to shopping for fashion accessories, there are always plenty of options; however, not every option has a positive impact on society or the planet. We are here to offer a real handmade indigenous product, that will help keep your vibration high, with natural and intelligent materials.

Amazon Bracelets

Our bracelets are handmade from all types of berries. Achira seeds, acai berries, tagua nut perls, combined with brass and gold chains to cerate a unique modern look for this summer 2019.

MADE WITH LOVE

Protecting the planet from damaging practices is done with every choice we make, little or small. We have learned from indigenous cultures how their ways always consider the Pachamama (Mother Earth & the Cosmos), and we have brought that vision to you, through beautiful products. The story of these ancient cultures contains a wisdom and an intelligence.

VEGAN BAGS COLLECTION

The background of the image is a dense display of various handcrafted items. In the upper portion, several large rectangular textiles or tapestries are hanging, featuring bold, geometric patterns in a variety of colors including orange, blue, red, and white. Some of the patterns include stylized human figures, abstract shapes, and repeating geometric motifs. Below these, a row of smaller, cylindrical woven baskets is visible. These baskets are decorated with intricate, colorful patterns, including stripes, zig-zags, and geometric shapes. Some baskets have tassels hanging from their tops. The overall scene suggests a market or a display of traditional indigenous crafts.

TAGUA NUT KEYCHAINS

The harvest of tagua is a wonderful way to protect endangered rainforest lands – giving people a sustainable, renewable, natural resource that provides both economic stability and an alternative to rainforest destruction. Because of its incredible likeness to animal ivory, tagua is also being used as an ivory and bone substitute – it is so similar, in fact, that it is being used for many museum and historical reproductions of elephant ivory artifacts. In one year, one tagua palm can produce as much ivory as an average female African elephant does in her lifetime. "

TAGUA KEYCHAIN COLLECTION

Strong leather and cord is used to handcraft each keychain with expert care and craftsmanship
